A Grand Wedding.

On Thursday evening of this week a large number of the elite of the upper and lower town of Las Vegas and surrounding country assembled at the house of Don Simon Baca in the upper town to witness the marriage of Miss Emilia Montoya, daughter of Don Miguel Montoya to Don Pedro Perea, son of Don Jose L. Perea of Bernalillo. The place of the wedding was a large hall which had been prepared especially for the occasion and was handsomely festooned with evergreens and flags and hung with mirrors. The marriage ceremony was performed at the appointed hour by Rev. J. M. Coudert, Parish Priest, assisted by Reverend Gasparri and Personé after a short discourse upon the obligations of the marriage contract by Rev. Gasparri.

The handsome bride was elegantly attired in white gros grain silk, en train, skirt trimmed with ruffles, plain and pleated alternating; crown of orange blossoms, white tulle veil and wreath of orange blossoms falling below the waist. The guests present numbered several hundred and represented among them the leading and wealthy families of the Territory. Owing to limited time and space this week our pen will spare the details merely stating that the ladies were dressed with that richness appropriate to the wealth they represent. Dancing commenced at nine o'clock and refreshments were served in an adjoining room throughout the evening. The wedding cake was a masterpiece in the culinary line, pyramidal in shape and measuring a foot and a half in height, on a proportionate base. Among the guests from a distance, present, were J. M. Perea and wife of Bernalillo, Justo Arriaga and wife also of Bernalillo, United States Senator Dorsey from Arkansas, Jefferson Reynolds and wife recently of Pueblo, Mrs. Reynolds of Central City Frank Crozier of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, and many other distinguished non-residents whose names the reporter failed to obtain.

Killed.

A difficulty took place Saturday evening last in the west part of town between Cornelio Flores and one Juan Plummerfeld from Mora which resulted in the death of the former. We have not learned the cause of the difficulty but Plummerfeld is supposed to have struck Flores on the head with a pistol, breaking the skull. Flores lay unconscious until the next morning when he died. Plummerfeld had stopped around town and was arrested Sunday afternoon. The preliminary examination was had on Monday and Tuesday of this week, before Justice of the Peace, Feliciano Escudero. The prisoner was remanded to jail, without bail, to await the action of the District Court. The fatal affray took place some ten steps outside of the saloon of the brother of the deceased.

South Second Street is becoming one of our principal business streets. Commerce from the plaza, the Exchange Hotel, the store of J. Rosenwald & Co., the barber shop, the office of the Las Vegas Advertiser, the tailor shop of Porfirio Araya, the saloon of Jose Pereda, Teats' butcher shop, the office of the Las Vegas Gazette, Powell's carpenter shop, F. C. Ogden's carpenter shop and furniture store, the store of May Hay's, Croxford's harness shop, office of the Nevada Carol store of Jose Santos Loquival and of the office of J. H. Sutfin, Dentist and Physician.

The Gazette office has now got in new and commodious quarters at the north end of Dionicio Gonzales' building nearly opposite the old quarters which it has occupied since its establishment. This removal was effected on Monday and has necessarily entailed a large amount of work upon the printing press this week, and somewhat curtailed the usual amount of reading matter. This our patrons will excuse and as we have now caught up with the work we will make the future issues of the Gazette better than ever.

Messrs JAFFA BROS. would respectfully inform their friends and customers that they have been delayed in reopening their store longer than anticipated owing to the non arrival of the Insurance Agent to adjust the losses occasioned by the fire, but they hope now to have everything arranged in a very few days to resume business, and they will then dispose of their remaining stock of goods at extremely low prices, in order to make room for an entire new stock.

Among the persons crowded out last week was the arrival of Mrs. W. T. Guyer, from Mesilla. Mr. Guyer had made his advent previously and secured a house for a permanent residence. Glad to have them in Vegas again.

Jefferson Reynolds, the banker, returned Saturday last from Colorado and with him came his sister in law, Mrs. Reynolds from Central City.

J. Kenyon, has also returned from Colorado to look after his herds.

A picnic was had Tuesday at a picturesque spot on the river at Romero's ranch. It was largely attended and a good time had generally. No more pleasant or healthful place can be invented than a quiet day in the woods away from the cares and responsibilities of business or duty.

Grain is leading out.
Carpenters are generally busy.
Many strangers are in town.
Sheep shearing season is nearly over.
The weather has been pretty warm this week.

Armstrong brings fresh butter to town every Friday.

The emigration to the Jicarilla mines has only commenced.

The south bound stages are generally crowded with passengers.

Work is progressing satisfactorily on the new buildings on the south side.

The weather has been dry and warm the past week, crops begin to need water.

A Las Vegas is writing interesting letters to the Joplin Sunday Herald, published in Jasper county Missouri.

We learn that a horse race for big stakes will take place at Los Alamos on the 4th of July. One of the horses belongs to Luis Baca.

In addition to the attractions of a horse race at Los Alamos on the 4th of July, a big dance will also take place in the evening.

We have not received any important news from the Jicarillas up to the hour of going to press, but by next week hope to have some favorable information.

A heavy emigration from Kansas, Colorado, Missouri and Arkansas is passing through here this summer bound for various points in this Territory and Arizona.

T. F. Chapman will be off to the Jicarilla mines in a few days with a Dry Washer of Smith's model. The former one taken down was merely to test the principal. This will be a substantial structure.

Don Eugenio Romero has commenced to clear away the rubbish from the ruins for the purpose of rebuilding his store house on the plaza. The house will be occupied as soon as completed as a store by Messrs. Jaffa Brothers.

A rumor has been going the rounds that Don Eugenio Romero's train was attacked by Indians at some point in Arizona, several of the mules killed and a teamster or two wounded, but Mr. Romero has not yet heard of it and does not think the report reliable.

Notice

Is hereby given that the partnership of J. T. Johnson and Brother is this day dissolved by mutual consent of both parties J. T. Johnson is to pay all company debts and to receive payment for all debts owing to the company. JAMES T. JOHNSON, April 3d, 1877.

Don Romualdo Baca showed us a natural curiosity which he brought up from his rancho. It is a stuffed lamb skin, showing that the little animal had two perfect heads and necks springing from one body. It had four legs as any other lamb, but from the shoulders forward it was formed double. This is a curious freak of nature.

Notice

From and after the 1st day of July 1877, we shall sell only for Cash.

All our customers will please bring or send the Cash for medicines, as we have closed our Books, and broken our Scales. J. H. SHOUT & CO.

All persons indebted to us, will please call and settle immediately or their accounts will be placed in the hands of an Attorney for collection. 220 St

Mr. Sweeney, Insurance Agent from Denver, arrived Thursday to adjust the loss of J. Rosenwald & Co., occasioned by the fire. The agent for the company in which Jaffa Bros. are insured will arrive tomorrow.

A Card.

To our many friends and the public in general, we extend our thanks for the valuable and timely aid and assistance rendered us in saving our goods from the conflagration last week. We have again established our office in the old stand on the north side of the plaza where we will open out in a few days with an entire new stock, and where we will be glad to meet all our friends and customers.

JAFFA BROS.

Senator Dorsey, Dr. Cunningham, Willie Spiegelberg and other gentlemen whose names we did not learn started yesterday, for the Upper Gallinas for the purpose of fishing for trout.

$50 Reward.

One brown mare mule branded an apple on left shoulder and hip. One sorrel horse mule, no brand. The mare mule is 14 hands high. Horse mule 15 hands high. The mules strayed from Summer and when last seen on the 14th inst they were near Kohn & Yerby's ranch. The above reward will be paid to any one bringing said mules to J. H. Teats, at Las Vegas.

Personals.

Mr. J. Bernard of Trinidad is stopping in town.

Willie Spiegelberg of Santa Fe is stopping at the Hot Springs.

Hon. S. W. Dorsey, Senator from Arkansas, arrived by Tuesday's Coach and has been stopping some days in town.

Miguel A. Otero and family arrived from Santa Fe yesterday.
Hon. L. G. Murphy and J. J. Dolan came up from Fort Stanton Saturday last.

In the Sweet By-and-By.

Cannot but be the happy thought as the fortunate recipient of the "ROCKY MOUNTAIN TOURIST" scans its wonderfully attractive pages and peruses its fascinating descriptions. Most beautifully embellished with new and highly artistic engravings, its letter-press a model of typographical richness, and the arrangement throughout simply superb, the ROCKY MOUNTAIN TOURIST is worthy of comparison with Picturesque America or The Adeline. It is written in gossamer, graphic style, covering details of the tour through the garden of the South west (the Arkansas Valley, Southern Kansas), to the very heart of the Alps of America—the Rocky Mountains. Jaunts are made to all famous resorts of Colorado, the remarkable ruins, the springs, the mines, and, in short, to every point of interest to tourist, agriculturist, capitalist, miner, and invalid. With the TOURIST, the SAG JUAN GUIDE keeps fitting company, and the two publications are mailed free to all writing for one or both to T. J. ANDERSON, Topeka, Kansas, 214

The Russian and the Turk glare at each other across the Danube. each with a chip on his shoulder which the other is afraid to knock off. They have been contemplating the war maps in the American newspapers, and dare not move; they would be absolutely certain to get lost, and a Russian or Turkish army lost in the labyrinths of an American war map must certainly starve to death before it could be rescued.

There is no doubt whatever that the Sultan earnestly exerted himself to prevent war, but, finding himself obliged to choose between revolution, with probable loss of power, and measures which were sure to make Russia declare war, he chose the latter reluctantly and with serious forebodings. The character of this man may be estimated from the following incident: He suffers from a decayed tooth, and, having been advised to consult a dentist, summoned one. Dentist advised the extraction of the tooth, and, at the request of the Sultan, explained the modus operandi. The Sultan summoned a slave and directed the dentist to show him how it was done. The slave lost his teeth, but the Sultan was unharmed by the sight of blood and deferred the operation on himself. It is stated on the best authority that the dentist has already been summoned eight times and that eight slaves have lost one or more teeth each, but that the Sultan still suffers from toothache. This incident might well serve as a parable to illustrate the way in which Western Europe has dealt with the rotten fabric known as the Ottoman Empire.

A Sharp Caught.

Some time last December a man named Max Leichtenhal called on the Luna Brothers, sheep men of Las Lunas, N. M., and made a contract with them for the purchase of 20,000 head of sheep. He paid a small amount of money for which he took a receipt, which he had already prepared. Some time afterward the Lunas received notice from Chick, Brown & Co., the bankers, that they held a note of theirs for $10,000. They were naturally astounded and on investigation it was found out that the sharper had taken advantage of their ignorance of the English language, and had obtained their signature to the note under the supposition that it was merely a receipt for the small amount paid them. Deputy Sheriff Frank Smith learned of the transaction last winter while working up the Carsonage of railroad thieves, and since then the Rocky Mountain Detective Association has been on the look out for the swindler. Last Saturday word was received that he was in town, and as the Denver Pacific train was leaving, Frank Smith saw him board a car. Proof was obtained that he was the man wanted, and a telegram to Evans caused his arrest at that place. He arrived here yesterday, in charge of a Weld county officer and is now in jail. On the way down he expressed sorrow at having caused the Luna Brothers any trouble, saying that he supposed the loss would fall on the bank.—J. C. W. Times

Two of the most celebrated artists the world has ever known dwell in the same city. One delighted in delineating beauty in all its graces of tint, form and motion. His portraits were instinct with the charm of physical vigor. The graceful, half voluptuous outline of form and feature harmonized with delicately blended tints. On his canvases, the homeliest faces had an almost irresistible charm. The other found pleasure only in depicting weird and gloomy subjects. Above all, did he excel in painting the portraits of the dying. The agonizing death-throe, the ghastly face and form, were all depicted with marvelous fidelity. There existed between these artists the most intense dislike. At length this dislike culminated. The beauty loving artist had been engaged in painting the portrait of a beautiful woman. Connoisseurs pronounced it the most wonderful piece of art that had ever been produced. His brother artist was jealous of his fame and sought revenge. By bribing the keeper of the studio he gained access to the picture each night. At first he was content to only deaden the brilliancy of the complexion and eyes, efface the bloom from cheek and lip and paint a shadow on either cheek. Later, his strokes grew bolder and freer, and one morning the artist awoke to find the entire outline of the portrait changed. He could scarcely recognize in the emaciated form and haggard countenance the glowing conception he had embodied. The pallid face and expressionless eyes he had attributed to a lack of genuineness in his materials; but when the outlines were changed he suspected the cause and indignantly dismissed the keeper. What the revengeful artist marred by a few rapid strokes of his skillful brush was only restored by years of patient industry. Reader, need we name the artists—Health, who paints the flowers and "grassy carpet" no less than the human form divine—Disease, the dreaded artist who reveals among the ruins both of nature and humanity.—and Carelessness, the keeper to whom Health often intrusts his portraits. And is it not the beauty of woman, the most admired of all the works which adorn the studio of Health, the Disease oftenest seeks to mar? The slightest stroke of his brush upon the delicate organization leaves an imprint that requires much skill and patience to efface. Restoration must be prompt. Carelessness must be dismissed. Let suffering women heed the warning ere Disease has marred their chief beauty—Health—beyond repair. "Dr. Piere's Favorite Prescription" has been used by thousands of these sufferers, and they are unanimous in their praise of its excellence. If you would be transformed from the pallid, nervous invalid into a happy, vigorous woman, try it.

There was only one cigar left in the box, and there were two young hopefuls struggling for it. The first little boy clutched it, but he said consolingly to his brother, "Never mind, Dick, I'll smoke on it till I get sick, and then you can finish it." And the heart of the other little boy was comforted.—Tuck.
